ORIOLE

Sandra Jones - Editor

An illustration in the bottom right corner of the page. It depicts a globe with a grid of latitude and longitude lines, showing the Americas. The globe is surrounded by several stars of varying sizes and some dark, smoky or cloud-like washes, suggesting a celestial or night sky theme.

To a very gracious cook we dedicate this 1960 Oriole. Her many years of service in helping to prepare lunch each day has been of great value to our school. She has always been ready and willing to help out whenever needed.

Many of us can remember her as a cook when we were in the grades. Mrs. Neva Johnston, we are proud to dedicate this 1960 Oriole to you.

Senior Class Prophecy 1960

It has been twenty years since the Class of 1960 graduated from dear old Baxter High. On a recent trip to Florida in June 1980, I ran into quite a few members of that class. Our jet landed in Daytona Beach, Florida to refuel, so I decided to attend the races. Looking at the racing program, whose names were listed but Jean Vinsice and Darel Reynolds. Remember the hot '57 Chevy Darel used to have? Coming down the stretch Jean and Darel were neck and neck, then Jean poured on the speed to win the 100 mile race in 10 minutes flat. Remember those slow cars we used to have in 1960 that would only go 150 miles an hour.

As I boarded the jet, I found that there was a new stewardess aboard and it was none other than Clarice Kanne. Clarice told me that she has had to bail out twice, but she has always been lucky, since she always seems to land in a haystack. Watch out for those needles the next time Clarice.

Clarice informed me that the pilot was Raymond Fuller, and then I was ready to jump. Raymond is now going by the nickname of Crash Fuller, since he has been in more than 100 crashes.

I was never so glad to get down on the ground as when we landed in Miami. I went to my hotel to recuperate and I ran into the hotel owner and manager, John Flora. John designed this terribly modern hotel which is made only of glass. He also said that he has a terrible time in the spring when the spring baseball season is going on. The balls are always breaking the glass.

That night I decided to go to a nightclub. As I entered the Coconut Grove I saw Duane Wiskow doing his world famous Barbie Dance. Also appearing in another act was Mary Schrover who held the longest note in history, an unbelievable time of 3 hours, 45 minutes and 13 seconds. I walked over to the bar and whom did I find but Mary Hardenburgh. She gave me her newest sensational drink called the Suicide Special. She told me the most important ingredient was snake venom and I replied "But it's poisonous." Well she said "I told you it was a Suicide Special." Just at that moment two men in white coats came and took poor Mary away. I guess she hasn't quite recovered from the Senior Class play in which she played a nut.

Just as I was ready to leave the nightclub, who did I run into but Linda Needham, garbed in sables and diamonds. She was terribly heart broken since she was a widow for the 20th time. All of her husbands have died under mysterious circumstances. This time her husband left all his millions to their pet poodle, and Linda was disappointed that she didn't get any of his money.

The next morning I went to a coffee house for breakfast. When I stepped into the cafe, I wondered what was going on, but then I realized I must be in a beatnik coffee house. On stage was Gera Burkhardt, the most widely known beatnik in Florida. He was reciting his poetry, if you want to call it that. Since his part in the play he has always been a true beatnik.

In the afternoon we took a trip into the Everglades to visit Sharie Butler's Reptile Farm. When we arrived we saw Sharie demonstrating to customers how wonderful snakes are for pets. Then Sharie wrapped the snakes around her arms. The women, whom Sharie was demonstrating to, asked what would happen if a snake would bite you. Sharie replied "Well silly, you bite it back."

Later that afternoon we went down to the beach. While I was swimming I thought I noticed Joyce Alan. As I got up closer I found that Joyce was a life guard. I asked her if she had saved many people from drowning, and she reported she had saved 186 lives. She told me that of those 186, 143 were men. I always thought that men were better swimmers than women.

The next day, we toured Cape Canaveral. The head scientist there is Dr. Sandra Jones, and I wondered if it could be Sandy Jones who graduated from Baxter High School. I was out on the testing field when I ran into Sandy. She has just invented a new type of satellite, which will not fail to go into orbit. I guess Chemistry and Physics must have helped Sandy with her career. She told me that today, some scientists were going to send the first man into space. I asked her why they were using a person and she said it was Monkey Week, and the Humane Society won't let them use monkeys. I was quite excited and I wondered who the person would be, so I went into the head Mathematician's office and asked who they were sending into orbit. You would never guess who the mathematics expert is there, it is none other than Ronnie Allan. He said they were sending Dave Backin into outer space, since he was the only person on earth able to pass the tests. I doubted if Dave would ever leave the earth since the Satellite Syracuse had failed 198 times in succession. I talked to Ronnie, and asked him why all of a sudden he had become interested in math. He explained that his geometry course in high school had inspired him a great deal.

Nearby is the Florida Home for "morons." Ronnie told me that I'd never guess who was running the home. I was curious, so I decided to visit the moron institution. I asked the nurse if I could see the doctor in charge and who did I find but Wendell Johnston. Wendell said that he had always been interested in "morons," but while Wendell was in high school, I could have never pictured him working in a moron institution.

When I arrived back at the hotel to relax, I read the Miami newspaper. The headlines read "IOWA WANTS TO DISCONTINUE VOTING RIGHTS OF WOMEN." In the picture below I recognized David Marsh. Back in high school David always maintained that the country would go to pot if it were in the hands of women. But I think our woman president now is doing a very good job.

The next morning, I got up bright and early and started to sail on the luxurious cruiser to Cuba. I had been reading in the newspaper that Castro was having a little difficulty trying to stay in power. When I arrived, guns and cannons were booming, and I wondered what was happening. Later, I found out that Dean Castro Flora had just taken over Cuba. I remember that in 1960 Castro was sole dictator of the country, but things can change.

I know that I will always remember my exciting trip to Florida and Cuba, and meeting all the members of the Class of 1960.

Freshman's Day of Doom

The Seniors started exerting their seniority by initiating the Freshmen. African natives, hula girls, and comic strip characters were seen cleaning steps with tooth brushes, and saying "Most Honorable Senior" to their upperclassmen.

In the evening, the Freshmen were the honored guests at a party given by the Senior Class. The High School was entertained by stunts done by the Senior Class and dancing was enjoyed by the student body and teachers. Later refreshments were served.

A Womanless Wedding

The lovely (7) Miss Tiny Oats (Charles Cool) and Mr. J. Filiverton Barley (alias Wilbur Flora) were united in matrimony at 8 P.M., Tuesday, October 20, 1959, at Mt. Idy's Snyder Swamp Civic Center. Mr. Adam Turnipseed (D. D. McCullough) performed the ceremony.

The bride was the daughter of "stoutly" Mrs. Oats (Ed Pfile). The trainbearers were Kate and Duplicate Cornsmut (James and Arthur Vansice) twin nieces of the bride. The bride carried a bouquet of milkweed pods. She was happily given (or perhaps we should say forced) in marriage by her "shotgun carryun" father, Mr. Knowls Oats (Rex Butler).

Red haired Miss Muddie Ricefield (Ray Hougham) was Maid of Honor and the bridesmaids were two cuties schoolmates (reform school) of the bride--Ray Hill and Max Butler. Little Shuck Stringbean (Marlyn Sutton) was the dashing little ring bearer.

Mr. Percy Birdseed (Bert Jontz) was Best Man and led the groom down the aisle by a rope. Head ushers for this suspicious occasion were Kenneth Richardson and Clyde Akins.

Miss Abigail Sournote (John Flora) pianist, played the traditional wedding march and accompanied "tall, gangling" Mr. Turnip Green (Mr. Elben) as he warbled two satires--"O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" in manner and words never heard before. A special guest, Mt. Idy's own TV star Charlie Weaver (Lloyd Von Hagen) was on hand and pantomimed "These Are My People."

"Slow" Pappy Rock'n Rye (Al Nuzum) and "fast high-steppin'" Granny Rye (Jack Edge) the grandparents of the bride clamored on stage for the wedding as did Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheatheart (Charles Jontz and Harold Fitzgerald) Uncle and Aunt of the bride. The bride's lovable lil' sister, Sis Eatzer Oats (Walter Banninger) was cared for at the wedding by the family's colored nurse, Aunt Hominy Grita (Loren Shaw), Mrs. Nosey Toadvine (LeRoy Allspach) and flippy and flashy Miss Needza Mann (Chester Petermeyer) were also on hand for the wedding. Even the sweetheart, Miss Ubika Scratchfeed (Wesley Saak) attended the wedding and had a lovely cry!!! Charlie's Mama, Mrs. Weaver (Lloyd Von Hagen) was also on hand.

Following the wedding, pictures were taken by the Clouse Studio before everyone attended the reception held in the lunch room.

In charge of the food served at the reception was Mrs. Kenneth Pyle and she had a very capable group of waiters and waitresses to serve the guests. The wedding party's costumes were by Beatrice Richardson, Marilyn Deutsch, Mazie Nuzum, Dorothy Hill, and Marjorie Cross. This affair, staged by the Band Fathers, sponsored by the Band Mothers, was under the capable direction of Eleanor Flora, assisted by Lloyd Von Hagen and Maude Jontz. Mrs. Jontz also handled the chore of advance ticket sale. Wilbert and Blythe Clapper sold the tickets at the door. Gladys Schweinehart and Lots Jontz were in charge of publicity.

Junior-Senior Banquet & Prom

On May 5, at 12:00 p.m. the Seniors left for the Kapilana Beach in the Ozarks by the school bus. After many Dairy Queen and gas stops later we arrived at All-States Village in Columbia, Missouri. That evening was spent by seeing shows and bowling.

The next morning, bright and early, we hit the road again. We toured Stephen's College in Columbia and also Missouri State University. Then on to Jefferson City where we saw the Capitol and the prison.

After lunch we arrived at Kapilana Beach. The rest of the afternoon was spent swimming, boating, exploring the beach, meeting new friends, and just plain messing around.

That evening we were picked up at our beach along with other groups by the excursion boat, the "Governor," where we spent the next two hours dancing and getting acquainted. Upon returning to our beach we had a wiener roast, where we stuffed ourselves with hot dogs and pop. We finished the evening off by dancing in the new recreational hall.

We then returned to our cabins for a good night's sleep!

The next morning we visited Dog Patch, Phantom Acres, and Bagnell Dam. We also finished up the morning by going horseback riding.

We spent the afternoon as we pleased, which included renting two speed boats, and riding in a sea plane, which proved to be a lot of fun.

That evening we went to the Ozark Opry, which was enjoyed by all.

Another wiener roast was held upon returning to the beach.

At 8:30 Sunday morning a very tired group started out for home. We had a picnic lunch, prepared by the resort, at a roadside park. We arrived home at 4:40 p.m. with wonderful memories to always remember.

Girls' Basketball

The Girls' Basketball Team showed an increased improvement over last year posting a record of 17 wins and 5 losses. They got third place in the Sectional tournaments and were Co-Champions in the Ta-Ma-Ja Conference. The team will be losing 3 very good Senior players next year: Clarice Kanne, who plays guard, Sharie Butler, who plays forward, and Mary Hardenburgh, who plays forward also. We hope they will still have a good, strong team next year and in the future years to come.

BEST WISHES GRADS

The world is crying for good leaders who are trained to tackle the many problems we face as members of the human race.

Your role in the big picture is now only beginning. A diploma is your invitation to pursue more knowledge and training.

...And at Maytag there is a continuing quest for better ways of producing and merchandising the products that made this company the leader in home laundry equipment.

Maytag's line of automatic washers, dryers, wringer washers, combination washer-dryers, food freezers and ironers is the result of never-ending research.

We hope your future is filled with good health and prosperity.
